
Londonist, Online
17 APRIL 2016

BY: LAURA REYNOLDS

The Classic Car Boot Sale In Photos

There is a Chevy under there somewhere...

Mustangs, Chevrolets, VW vans — they're all gathering at King's Cross this weekend for The Classic Car Boot Sale. Vintage and retro clothing, homewares and jewellery are for sale out of the back of vintage vehicles, alongside collectable records, comic books and more. Some of the vehicles themselves are even for sale. We popped down to Granary Square yesterday to take a look.

Follow us on Instagram for more of our favourite photos from the event.

A pop-up photo booth in Granary Square.

Vintage clothes being sold out of the back of a vintage car

VW Camper vans of all types are present.

When you come out of King's Cross station, follow the trail of classic cars towards Granary Square.

A vintage black cab sits alongside a modern equivalent in Granary Square.

King's Cross

Craft activities inside a VW camper van.

Another camper acts as a sales table.

It's a collector's paradise.

Who doesn't love The Beano?

Plenty of stalls cater for fashionistas.

Even on a dull day, the cars look magnificent.

Two wheel vehicles appear too.

A Routemaster that sells beer? Now you're talking.

A vintage London Underground jigsaw.

King's Cross

One trader sells table mats with maps of almost any part of London.

King's Cross

These are probably the only cars we could afford.

All photos by Londonist.

The Classic Car Boot Sale in on today 10am-6pm. Entry is £5 on the door/£4 online.

ES Magazine, P7
15 APRIL 2016

CAPITAL GAINS What to do in London

BY SAMUEL FISHWICK

J Crew cotton T-shirt, £45

1 MAKE A BEE LINE
Heard the buzz about J Crew's collaboration with watercolour specialist Marcel George? Buy one of their bee-patterned T-shirts or pocket squares and 50 per cent goes to conservation charity Buglife. (jcrew.com)

2 DISC WORLD
Celebrate Record Store Day on Saturday with a spin around London's indie record shops. Bag new releases, head to Rough Trade Records for live DJs and gigs, or sign up to the Berwick Street Calling competition to have your unsigned track pressed into a seven-inch. 16 April (recordstoreday.co.uk)

3

Jungle FEVER

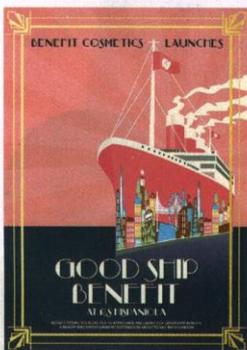

Rudyard Kipling's tales make exceedingly good movies. Mowgli, Bagheera and Baloo go wild again as The Jungle Book gets a live-action reboot, starring Scarlett Johansson and Idris Elba. Out now.

4 PHOTO FINISH

From Egyptian Laura El-Tantawy's family portraits to Tobias Zielony's shots of refugees in Germany, the imagery at this year's Deutsche Börse Photography Prize is both political and personal. Until 3 July. 16-18 Ramillies Street, W1 (thephotographersgallery.org.uk)

Tobias Zielony's The Citizen, 2015

5 All aboard
Urbane beauty brand Benefit's floating pop-up is moored at Embankment until 31 August, so step aboard for brow-shaping bars among the tiki-huts and cocktail cabanas. Entry and make-up tutorials are free. Victoria Embankment, WC2 (goodshipbenefit.com)

6
Anna Walker monogrammed leather pouches, from £65

TANNING STUDIO

Anna Walker puts hard graft into her craft: the former stylist sources the finest vegetable-dyed leather to make bespoke tote bags and wallets (above), finished with signature gold foil and monograms. Her first pop-up sticks around until Sunday. 67 Redchurch Street, E2 (annawalkerlondon.com)

BOOT CAUSE

Start your engines: designer Wayne Hemingway's Classic Car Boot Sale returns this weekend, with vintage fashion, street food and festivities among the characterful cars. £5 entry. Lewis Cubitt Square, N1 (classiccarbootsale.co.uk)

LAST CHANCE... to catch titans of 20th-century art Richard Avedon and Andy Warhol's shared billing in King's Cross. And it's free! 6-24 Britannia Street, WC1 (gagosian.com)

LOOK AHEAD... Open-air film season is upon us! The Luna Cinema's outdoor screens are back, including a new one at the Tower of London. From 23 June (thelunacinema.com)

Alamy, © Betond listvndi 2015 hototnd.co.uk, illustration by Jonathan Calugi @ Michas

Baby Day Tripper, Online

15 APRIL 2016

What's on at the weekend? – 16, 17 April 2016

This weekend there's family space fun, the last chance to catch Alice, classic cars and voices...

Outer Space Family Day, Keats House, 1pm to 4pm, Sunday 17 April 2016

Discover answers to burning questions about Space at a Keats House family day this Sunday. Is there life on Mars? How high can you jump on the moon? You can also do the Space Walk to some extra-terrestrial music. Free. More details here

Alice in Wonderland, British Library, until Sunday 17 April 2016

The British Library's Alice in Wonderland exhibition draws to a close this weekend. See Lewis Carroll's original manuscript with hand-drawn illustrations, alongside editions by Mervyn Peake, Ralph Steadman, Leonard Weisgard, Arthur Rackham, Salvador Dali and others. Free. More details here

This is a Voice, Welcome Collection, until 31 July 2016

The Welcome Collection's new, free exhibition looks at the relationship between voice and identity. Featuring works by artists, vocalists, paintings, manuscripts, medical illustrations and ethnographic objects, the exhibition examines all aspects of the voice including non-verbal forms of communication. Free. More details here

Classic Car Boot Sale, King's Cross, 16 and 17 April 2016

Car aficionados should head to King's Cross this weekend for the Classic Car Boot Sale. Buy vintage goods from the boots of vintage vehicles, see classic cars, eat street food, watch street theatre and catch a live music performance or two. Traders will be set up in Kings Cross St Pancras Square, along Kings Boulevard, through Granary Square and onto the recently opened new public space, Lewis Cubitt Square. Tickets cost £4 online/£5 on door, children under 12 free. More details here

Time Out, Online
15 APRIL 2016

36 cool things to do in London this weekend

By Stephanie Hartman

© Alan James

Bag yourself a bargain at the Classic Car Boot Sale where vintage fashion and stylish homeware will be piled high, get a load of Patty & Bun's special Record Store Day burgers while you flick through vinyl in Soho, or settle down with Mowgli and friends at a screening of 'The Jungle Book'. Here are all the best happenings this weekend.

Things to do

Record Store Day, various locations, Sat. The world's independent record shops come together to celebrate Record Store Day 2016, and London's top music boutiques are set to join in the fun. Whether you're an avid vinyl collector or just want to catch some great live music, be sure to get involved.

Art Macabre: The Drawing Jukebox, Book Club, Sat, £15. A Record Store Day special from the Art Macabre crew who'll have both nude and costumed models striking poses throughout the afternoon.

ADVERTISING

inRead invented by Teads

Cabbages and Frocks Dog Day Afternoon, Marylebone, Sat, free. Think your dog's looking a bit ruff? Bring your pooch along to this special Cabbages and Frocks market day starring doggy accessories, treats, training and puppy portraits.

King's Cross

PRESS CUTTING

South London's Affordable Vintage Fair, Army Centre, Sat-Sun, £2-£3. The UK's biggest vintage fair returns to South London for a furniture-filled edition, offering up stalls packed with vintage chairs, barware, textiles, record players, lamps and more.

Undressed: A Brief History of Underwear, V&A, Sat-Sun, free. Get ready to have shirts and skirts stripped back to focus on the skivvies that shape the body below at this exhibition charting how underwear supports and firms the figure, as well as the sexual and sensual appeal it holds.

Classic Car Boot Sale, Lewis Cubitt Square, Sat-Sun, £5. King's Cross's newest public space Lewis Cubitt Square is gearing up to be covered in classic vehicles from which vendors will be flogging vintage fashion, homewares and collectibles.

This Is A Voice, Wellcome Collection, all weekend, free. Through exploration of vocal tracts, speech devices and restless minds, this exhibition sheds light on the human voice and why we make the weird and wonderful sounds we do.

...or check out more events happening in London this weekend.

Panupong Roopyai
Eating and drinking

Singha Beer Presents: Songkran Festival, Carousel, TONIGHT, £35. Celebrate Thai New Year without leaving the capital at this dining experience drawing on the tastes, sights and sounds of Southeast Asia.

The '80s Office Party Pop-up, Rose Lipman Building, Fri-Sat, £55. If your ideal dinner party guests are 'Ab Fab's Patsy Stone, 'Die Hard's John McClane and 'Blind Date'-era Cilla, you'll have a power-suited ball at The Art of Dining's retro party pop-up.

Patty & Bun x Record Store Day, Patty & Bun Soho, Sat-Sun. A two-day event a celebration of the UK's Independent Record Shops. The Soho burger joint will be serving special burgers which also come with a free Island Record IPA.

Comida Fest, Oxo Tower Wharf, Sat-Sun, free. A new Latin American street food market showcasing the likes of Jama Cubana, Marlon's Kitchen, London Locomotive Smoke, Gusacaca and more.

King's Cross

PRESS CUTTING

Love Beer, Battersea Arts Centre, Sun, free. Following the devastating fire that destroyed Battersea Arts Centre's Grand Hall last year, the annual beer festival that normally takes place there is no more. The venue have decided to throw its own version, however, giving beer lovers the chance to try the wares of a number of London breweries.

...or check out the latest restaurant reviews.

Comedy

Friday Night Freaks, Udderbelly, TONIGHT, £16.50, £15 concs. Get your freak on with these twisted stand-up, comedy and cabaret acts.

Paul Zerdin – Spongefinger, Udderbelly, Fri-Sat, £16.50, £15 concs. Ventriloquist Paul Zerdin has long been a favourite on the UK comedy circuit, and is a regular on the 'Royal Variety Show'. But now he's a full-blown US star, having won 'America's Got Talent' last year, and performing headline shows in glitzy Las Vegas.

Knock2Bag East, Rich Mix, Sat, £10 adv. The Knock2Bag team regularly have some of the best comedy bills in London and are always brilliant value. Tonight's bill includes Aisling Bea, Matt Rees, Matthew Crosby, Lazy Susan.

...or check out all the critics' choice comedy shows.

Live music

Scout Niblett, The Lexington, TONIGHT, £12. Don't be fooled by the cute name: her frost-bitten, sparsely accompanied vocals vacillate between violence and tenderness with the emotional punch of PJ Harvey and Cat Power.

Jóhann Jóhannsson + Hildur Guðnadóttir, Conway Hall, Sat, £20-£25. The two Icelandic composers present the world premieres of new work: Jóhannsson's '12 Conversations with Thilo Heinzmann' and Guðnadóttir's 'Prepared Listening' for voice and cello, performed by the composer.

Tinie Tempah, O2 Academy Brixton, Sat, £29.50. Charming grime-pop chap Patrick Okogwu headlines The O2 as part of his enormous latest tour, pumping out chart hits like the synth-slathered soul of 'Pass Out'.

...or take a look at all the live music events in London this weekend.

Hip Hop Vs R&B
Nightlife

King's Cross

PRESS CUTTING

Coney Island Party, Bethnal Green Working Men's Club, TONIGHT, £6 adv. A monthly surreal and strange sideshow of fairground follies, rock 'n' roll dancing and freak show craziness, inspired by kooky car-crash beach resort Coney Island.

Hip Hop Vs R&B, The Garage, TONIGHT, £6 adv. Prepare for smooth tunes, ballsy beats, sharp rhymes and plenty of classic hip hop and R&B jams that you know and love.

Prins Thomas, The Pickle Factory, TONIGHT, £10. Space-disco don Prins Thomas, also known for his cosmic odysseys with fellow hairy Norwegian producer Lindstrøm, turns in an all-night set to transform The Pickle Factory into an obscenely groovy cosmic frenzy of disco, deep house and prime funky fodder.

Love Come Down, Arch Gallery, Sat, £8. If you're looking for glitter, disco, more glitter and more disco, LCD is very probably the party for you.

...or see all the parties planned this weekend.

Jungle Book

Film

Kinoteka Polish Film Festival: 'Repulsion', Close-Up Film Centre, TONIGHT, £12, £10 concs. 'Repulsion' is Polanski's most perfectly realised film, a stunning portrait of the disintegration, mental and emotional, of a shy young Belgian girl living in London.

'Singin' in the Rain' + Richard Ayoade intro, East Dulwich Picturehouse, Sat, £13, £12 concs. It's the East Dulwich Picturehouse's first birthday, so they've asked local boy Richard Ayoade to come and introduce one of his favourite films.

Shakespeare on Screen: 'O', BFI Southbank, Sat, £6.50. A rare, welcome and pleasingly cheap screening of this smart, overlooked Shakespeare adaptation, setting 'Othello' among the members of a high-school basketball team.

Or at the cinema...

The Jungle Book ★★★★★☆ Oobie-do... Disney's live-action remake of 'The Jungle Book' is a winner.

PRESS CUTTING

...or see all of the latest releases.

© Ellie Kurtz

Theatre

Scenes from 68* Years, Arcola Theatre, Fri-Sat, £12-£17, £12 concs. Moving, polemic-free play about life under occupation from Palestinian-Irish writer Hannah Khalil.

The Brink, Orange Tree Theatre, Fri-Sat, £15. 'Buying houses? We're not Tories, Chloe.' Brad Birch's surreal new satire wears its politics on its polycotton sleeves, in defiance of the chintzy Richmond residences outside the theatre.

Goosebumps, The Vaults, all weekend, £25-£47.50, £15 concs. Nostalgic horror fun in this uneven immersive theatre show.

...or see our theatre critics' choices.

© Robert Crumb, courtesy David Zwirner

This week's best new art

R Crumb: Art and Beauty, David Zwirner, Fri-Sat, free. Brash, sex-obsessed and divisive, Robert Crumb's satirical images reference modern-day celebrities and Renaissance ideals of beauty alike.

Joby Williamson: Heel Bar, Tintype, Fri-Sat, free. Broom handles, cardboard boxes, screwed-up notes and other bits of everyday ephemera are turned into art in Williamson's objects and installations.

Jules de Balincourt: Stumbling Pioneers, Victoria Miro, Fri-Sat, free. After returning to his hometown of Los Angeles after 20 years away, artist de Balincourt has created a series of bright, trippy paintings that deal with this strangest of cities.

Angela de la Cruz, Peer, Sat, free. Ace Hoxton space Peer reopens with a massive, crumpled painting squeezed into the gallery by Angela de la Cruz.

...or see all London art reviews.

And finally

Win... a pair of VIP weekend tickets to T in the Park or one of 1,000 pairs of tickets to Time Out's Dalston Yard Preview Party

Grab... up to 58% off off a wash, cut and blow dry with Luxe oil treatment at Andrew Jose

Book... these gigs while you still can

Evening Standard, Online
15 APRIL 2016

Classic Car Boot Sale to arrive in London this weekend

King's Cross will be overrun with vintage goods this weekend as the Classic Car Boot Sale comes to town

CERY'S KENNEALLY

Vintage goods: Classic Car Boot Sale returns to King's Cross Botond Istvándi

King's Cross will take a step back in time this weekend - April 16-17 – as a parade of classic cars, clothes and music arrives for a two-day vintage takeover.

You'll be sure to find some hidden gems amongst the vintage clothing and music on offer, as well as enjoying the weekend by travelling back in time.

Even if you're not so keen on trawling through vintage goods, there will be other activities to enjoy.

King's Cross

PRESS CUTTING

You can expect some live music from Dat Brass, as well as an improvised show from the National Youth Theatre.

Don't forget to explore the food and drink options too to keep you energised and happy. The likes of Pulled Food, Anna Mae's and Jiggery Pokery Parlour will be appearing amongst the vintage goods this weekend.

Even if you just plan on looking at the vintage cars, you'll be pleased to know that you can pick up your very own vintage motor at this Classic Car Boot Sale.

With endless amounts of vintage goods on offer, you can enjoy the day celebrating a journey through timeless designs, as well as appreciating the future.

Director, Online
15 APRIL 2016

Wayne and Gerardine Hemingway share secrets of their business success

Christian Koch

The husband-and-wife team behind design agency House of Hemingway discuss their ventures – from launching fashion label Red or Dead, to tackling housing issues, to boosting independent traders with their upcoming Classic Car Boot Sale

Wayne Hemingway We first met as teenagers at a northern soul night at Angels nightclub, Burnley, in 1980. Me and two mates put a fiver each into a kitty with the winner being whoever got a girl's telephone number first. Gerardine was on the dancefloor wearing a self-made Andy Pandy suit. I handed her a piece of paper with the line, 'Will you be my angel?' Luckily, it paid off.

Gerardine Hemingway He got paid for finding a wife! Within a year, we were engaged [they married in 1982]. Wayne went to university in London, and I visited every weekend.

Wayne Hemingway We never had any money, forcing me to empty my cupboard and sell my old clothes.

Gerardine Hemingway Our stall was in Camden Market and we also sold jumble sale items. By 1983, we had 16 stalls and a Kensington shop.

King's Cross

PRESS CUTTING

Wayne Hemingway We were buying things for 10p then selling them for £100. Cool young Londoners would buy our clothes, then the Japanese and French started visiting with big black sacks. We had no borrowings, no mum and dad helping out.

Gerardine Hemingway During one London Fashion Week, Macy's placed an order. I remember writing it down, thinking, 'How am I going to make all this?'

Wayne Hemingway The next thing we knew we'd set up a factory in Blackburn. All these textile mills were empty and we got a council grant. We bought the machines from an old nurse's uniform factory through Exchange and Mart, my mum helped out, Gerardine's sister packed in her job...

Gerardine Hemingway During the 1980s, Bros fans sported our 'watch shoes', and Demi Moore was on Time magazine's cover wearing our stuff. People think fashion is just parties. It's not. It's hard work.

Wayne Hemingway We've never been fearful of anything... Red or Dead wouldn't have worked without us. Because fashion takes the dressmaking nous that Gerardine has, it started off as womenswear. But fashion also takes a mouth, which is what I've got, as well as the ability to come up with marketing ideas that resonate with the media. All Red or Dead collections had a story or theme, which came from me. But Gerardine did the detail, turning it into clothing people could wear.

Gerardine Hemingway Wayne was working from early morning until teatime, with me working later. By the mid-1990s Red or Dead started franchising and opening international stores. We were getting too big.

Wayne Hemingway In 1995 we sold Red or Dead to Facia group. By that stage, we were a large-scale company but still hands-on running the business, writing cheques and unpacking boxes coming in. I was starting to dislike the fashion industry – it was too up its backside. Having kids early, in our twenties, kept us grounded.

Gerardine Hemingway We were aliens, proper aliens. We had to work really hard to get onto catwalk schedules because they didn't think we were good enough to be there, because we hadn't trained.

Wayne Hemingway A year later, Facia collapsed, enabling us to buy back Red or Dead at a cheap price before selling it to Pentland Group.

Gerardine Hemingway Then, housing... Fifteen years ago, you could drive from Land's End to John O'Groats and see yellow signs for housing developments. Each one was the same. You just thought, 'The [building] industry must have more style than this'.

Wayne Hemingway I debated with housebuilders on Newsnight, which led to the Wimpey chairman asking us to work with them. We started on 700-odd homes in Gateshead that had been empty for 12 years. The Staiths project had a massive impact, shaking up housing. Gerardine designed around the clock while I was political, cracking heads with planners.

King's Cross

PRESS CUTTING

Gerardine Hemingway We got approached to do chi-chi London apartments, but said, 'No, we want to do some proper housing. We want to show that outside of London, design can be for anybody – it doesn't have to be expensive.'

Wayne Hemingway Today, we're a multidisciplinary design agency. We've designed uniforms for Transport for London and McDonald's and worked on the £30m regeneration of Margate's Dreamland amusement park. We've also branched into festivals – our Vintage Festival [celebrating five decades of British cool] has been held since 2007. House of Hemingway's a family firm too – our two eldest kids, Jack and Tilly, are partners. We've got our 'festival-for-a-fiver' Classic Car Boot Sale happening this month... And to this day, Gerardine still hasn't got jealous of me doing all the telly.

The Classic Car Boot Sale is on 16-17 April. To find out more visit classiccarbootsale.co.uk

House of Hemingway vital stats

Founded London, 1983 (as Red or Dead)

Location The couple split their working week between north London and Chichester homes

Projects Started off as fashion label Red or Dead in 1983, launching catwalk collections, footwear, accessories and global stores before being sold in 1995. HemingwayDesign was founded in 2000, with the company working on flooring/wallpaper ranges, making forays into housing design and founding the Vintage Festival.

Staff 11 full-time, over 50 more working freelance on House of Hemingway projects

Finance Turnover from fees is £1.1m. Figure does not include House of Hemingway products or events.

Coming soon The Hemingways are part of a team planning a 'festival of making', a manufacturing-led shindig for the autumn featuring everything from "jet engines to cars right the way through to somebody who makes clothes in their living-room".

Did you know? The Hemingways designed the interior of the IoD's former building at 123 Pall Mall, winning a Design Week award in 2002

houseofhemingway.co.uk

@HemingwayDesign

Vintage Frills, Online

14 APRIL 2016

The Classic Car Boot Sale Returns to London this Weekend

14_{APR}

One of my favourite vintage events in London would definitely have to be The Classic Car Boot Sale. What could be better than tonnes of beautiful vintage things to buy, a fantastic selection of classic cars, plenty of street food served out of classic vehicles and a bar in an old route master bus. I've only missed one event since they launched a few years ago and some of my favourite vintage dresses have come from sellers at the event.

The Classic Car Boot Sale is returning to London for two days this weekend. The event takes place a stones throw from Kings Cross Station and will pay host to over 100 classic vehicles and bikes as well as over 65 vintage traders. The quality of the stock on offer is really good.

To give you a taste of what to expect here are a few photos that I've taken at past events...

The stalls are packed with lovely vintage clothing, including plenty of mid century pieces.

The cars are one of the main highlights for me, I'm always excited to see who will turn up on the day.

I love looking through absolutely everything, there are lots of great finds hidden amongst the stalls.

The food and drink is all served from adapted vintage vehicles and there is a huge variety to choose from.

As well as clothing there are plenty of lovely home bits up for grabs.

I have a massive weakness for vintage aprons, this was one of my favourite stalls from last year.

Lots of wonderful mid-century kitchenalia.

The event has plenty of stalls to cater for the discerning gentlemen as well as for the ladies.

King's Cross

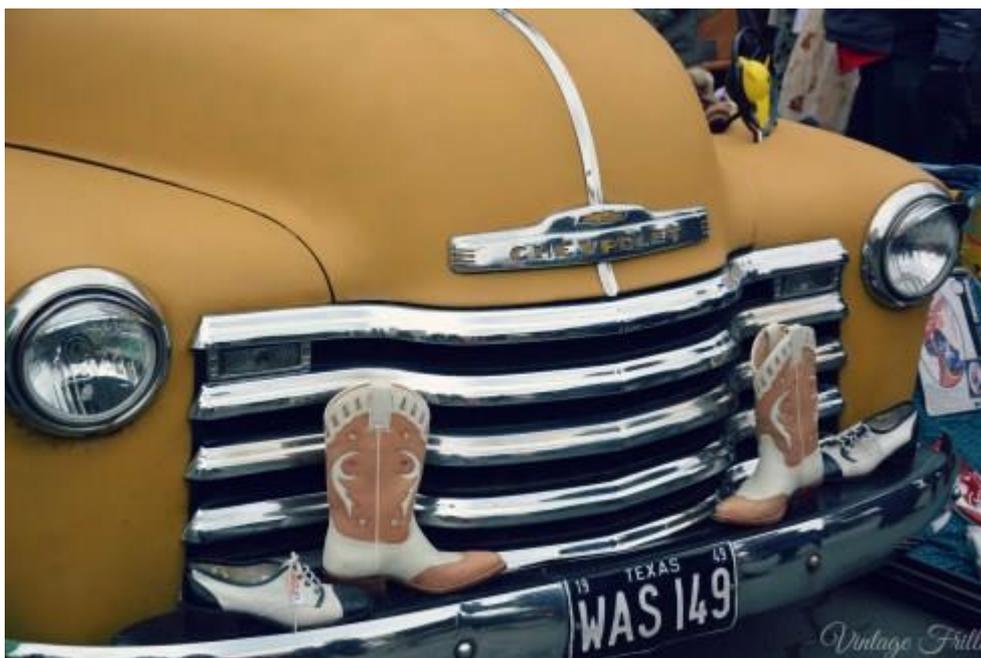

All the vehicle owners are really friendly and it's great fun to have a peek inside their fabulous motors.

Time for tea? One of my favourite things to spot at vintage fairs is the fantastic mid century crockery.

A fantastic selection of vintage accessories. Even if you don't wear vintage clothing all the time, a handbag makes a great vintage purchase.

I think this might be my dream vehicle! I just love the colour, I wouldn't mind the cowboy boots too!

I really enjoy leafing through rails and rails of lovely clothes, looking for that perfect dress to re-home.

The event takes place on the 16th and 17th April

Lewis Cubitt Square, King's Cross, London N1C 4UZ

Nearest tube – King's Cross / St Panras International Station

Find the full details of the event on The Classic Car Boot Sale website.

Urban Explorer, Online
14 APRIL 2016

Saturday 16th & Sunday 17th April, 2016

2

SATURDAY & SUNDAY

Crafty Car Boot in King's Cross

There's not a tat-topped trestle table in sight at this weekend's Classic Car Boot Sale. Here, it's all vintage glamorama and family-friendly retro shenanigans as Hemingway Design brings more than 100 of yesteryear's cars, bikes and buses for an open-air market/nostalgiafest. Pick up classic fashion, homewares and design; enjoy a vinyl-only soundtrack of '40s-'80s tunes; catch roving street theatre shows and impromptu jams; sample premium street food and retro-revival cocktails and prepare to party like it's 1959.

VENUE: Lewis Cubitt Square, King's Cross, London N1C

PERFECT FOR: All ages

VISIT WEBSITE

National Youth Theatre, Online
14 APRIL 2016

This Week At NYT

The Merchant of Venice
Wuthering Heights
Consensual
An Audience with David Suchet
Sad News - Illtyd Harrington
Playing Up! 2015/16
We're Hiring! – Education Marketing Officer
School Offers
Vintage Car Boot
Masterclass Courses
Membership Opportunities

Get Booking for NYT Season 2015!

Wuthering Heights, Consensual and The Merchant of Venice have all been looking incredible in their preview performances. Tickets are available to book now!

NYT Members – Login to your account and have a look at Member News to get you cheeky discount to the 2015 Season Shows: www.nyt.org.uk/members 6th October is Members Night so grab a ticket if you'd like to see the show and meet some NYT Members and Staff!

The Merchant of Venice at Ambassadors Theatre

Tue 29 September 2015 - Wed 2 December 2015.

Abridged by Tom Stoppard

Directed by Anna Niland

If you prick us do we not bleed? If you tickle us do we not laugh? And if you wrong us shall we not revenge?

Shakespeare's iconic tale of prejudice, justice and mercy is set against austerity and immigration in Tom Stoppard's specially commissioned abridgement, exploring the laws of society and how far your heritage dictates your destiny.

Wuthering Heights at Ambassadors Theatre

Fri 25 September 2015 - Fri 4 December 2015

A new adaptation by Stephanie Street

Directed by Emily Lim

Emily Brontë's classic tale of love, loss and revenge is stunningly re-imagined by Stephanie Street in a bold new adaptation staged by the National Youth Theatre.

When Heathcliff, a mysterious child is rescued and brought to Wuthering Heights, he develops an inseparable bond to Cathy. Their friendship soon develops into a passionate and iconic love, which spans generations and ends with tragic results.

A beloved classic adapted for today's audiences, not to be missed!

Consensual at Ambassadors Theatre

Fri 18 September 2015 - Wed 2 December 2015

Written by Evan Placey

Directed by Pia Furtado

"Think of Sexual Relationship Education as a war zone and you're the journalist. Give the facts, show the photos, but don't get too close unless you want your head blown off."

As Head of Year 11 Diane is meant to be implementing the new 'Healthy Relationships' curriculum. But then Freddie arrives. She hasn't seen him since that night six years earlier when he was fifteen.

She thinks he took advantage of her. He thinks she groomed him for months. But neither is sure.

An Audience with David Suchet

Exclusive online offer! Use code: SUCHET for £15 Tickets to 'An Audience With David Suchet'!

Limited Availability!

Join award winning actor David Suchet in conversation with Paul Roseby, CEO and Artistic Director of the National Youth Theatre, at the Vaudeville Theatre on Thursday 15th October for a very special one-off event.

Head here to book a ticket and for more information.

Hear from David about his career in TV, theatre and film that has spanned 5 decades, including what it was like for him to say goodbye to Poirot - one of Britain's best loved TV detectives.

NYT Members – there are discounted tickets available for you at the amazing price of only £5!

Head to the members board to grab one before they're gone: www.nyt.org.uk/members

Sad News - Illtyd Harrington

Many NYT friends will have had the pleasure of knowing, laughing and drinking with the legendary Illtyd Harrington who served for many years on the NYT Council and supported us for many more years. We were saddened to find out that Illtyd died earlier this week after a long illness. By all accounts he was still battling and bossing to the bitter end, and I know just the mere mention of his name conjures up so many happy and funny memories.

We owe him a great deal of gratitude here at NYT, and I'm sure you will join us all in saluting him with a glass or two at your earliest convenience. I can hear his distinctive welsh articulation still ring in my ears with the words 'hello precious!' He was and will remain a precious gem to us all. As yet we do not have the details of the funeral, which will be held in Brighton. If you'd like to pass on these details and you're not on the NYT association please email us on info@nyt.org.uk

Playing Up! 2015/16

This week we welcomed a fabulous, strong and energetic new Playing Up group into NYT!

There looks to be a huge amount of talent in the room and we're extremely excited to be working with such an energetic group of 25 young people.

Head here for more information on the Playing Up Course!

We're Hiring! – Education Marketing Officer

We are currently looking for a Education Marketing Officer to join our team.

The main purpose of this role is to lead the delivery of marketing campaigns for National Youth Theatre Acting Auditions, Technical Interviews and Masterclass Courses.

Head here for full info and how to apply!

School Ticket Offers

We have a special offer for schools to see the NYT 2015 Season shows!!!

Are you studying Merchant of Venice or Wuthering Heights in school? Get in touch to let us know and there could be an exclusive prize in it for you! We have education packs and resources available for teachers as well as fantastic school discounts.

Head here for full details on our 2015 Season!

We are also hosting a free event for schools! Head here for full information on You Can and get in touch with Jenny at Membership.Secretary@nyt.org.uk if you'd like to book your school into see the show!

Ambassador Roles

Members! Get applying for NYT Ambassador Training Days to be an Ambassador at NYT's Intake Auditions and Technical Interviews! Applications are still open!

Ambassador training days are part of NYT's Creative Pathways training programme, and offer vital facilitation development skills as well as training for NYT's annual intake auditions and technical interviews. We recommend that you attend a training day if you have applied to be an Ambassador at our intake auditions/technical interviews.

The role of Ambassador is of vital importance and our auditions process can't work without our Ambassadors. Ambassadors are present on audition days to assist the Auditor/Interviewer, ensuring things run smoothly and putting applicants at ease.

You must be an official NYT Member and be signed up to the Membership Scheme in order to take an Ambassadors role. Login to the Members area and head to Members News to apply!

Hemmingway Designs Classic Car Boot Sale

This weekend we are very excited to be performing at Hemmingway Designs Classic Car Boot Sale in Lewis Cubbitt Square!

If you fancy coming along to support, this fifth Classic Car Boot Sale takes place in Kings Cross, London on the 3rd & 4th October 2015. Head here for full event information!

Audition Technique, Performing Shakespeare, Acting for Screen

Bristol Actors and London Actors!! Why not get involved in a cheeky Audition Technique Masterclass and boost your audition skills?!

Our intensive Masterclass Courses take place this October and have been selling out quicker than ever! Head Here to see full details and to book a space.

Spaces are currently still available in Acting for Screen, Performing Shakespeare and Audition Technique Courses – get booking ASAP to avoid disappointment. Book onto a course in either London or Bristol!

We have just added another Audition Technique Course due to the demand!

Membership Opportunities

Keep applying for all of the exclusive opportunities that take your fancy on the Members Board!

Major industry castings and incredible free West End tickets are up for grabs this week. NYT Members - Get applying ASAP!

If you haven't signed up yet, you can click here for a summary of our Membership Scheme to see what has been on offer so far this year! There are lots of Q&A's with Alumni and Industry professionals soon to be posted so keep an eye out.

It is so easy to sign up. Just head to the Members Board, login with your email address and password (or let me know if you need to update either!) and then follow the steps on the initial page.

If you have any ideas or opportunities you'd like me to source, suggestions on tickets to find some discounts for or questions about your membership you can email me (Jenny!) at membership.secretary@nyt.org.uk

Katherine Rose Calvert, Online
14 APRIL 2016

KATHERINE ROSE CALVERT

PRESS CUTTING

King's Cross

CLASSIC CAR BOOT SALE POSTERS AND FLYERS

Graphics for Vintage Presents The Classic Car Boot Sale, working alongside King's Cross. Published as A0 posters around King's Cross St Pancras, Granary Square and Lewis Cubitt Square.

VINTAGE
presents
The Classic Car Boot Sale

SATURDAY 3RD &
SUNDAY 4TH OCTOBER 2015

10AM - 6PM, £5 ENTRY, LEWIS CUBITT SQUARE, KINGS CROSS

CLASSIC VEHICLES * MUSIC * STREET FOOD
DESIGN * VINTAGE COLLECTABLES * FASHION

FOR MORE INFORMATION VISIT: CLASSICCARBOOTSALE.CO.UK

 CLASSICCARBOOT  CLASSICCARBOOTSALE
 CLASSICCARBOOTSALE  CLASSICCARBOOTSALEKX

King's Cross

PRESS CUTTING

A5 Flyer to promote participation:

VINTAGE
presents
The Classic Car Boot Sale

King's Cross

SATURDAY 3RD & SUNDAY 4TH OCTOBER 2015
KING'S CROSS ST PANCRAS LONDON

WE NEED YOU!

WE ARE LOOKING FOR SELLERS AND OWNERS OF CLASSIC VEHICLES TO JOIN US FOR THE NEXT CLASSIC CAR BOOT SALE TAKING PLACE THIS OCTOBER AT THE NEWLY REGENERATED KING'S CROSS SITE.

Do you have some fine vintage attire, homewares, musical memorabilia or collectables you'd like to sell? Are you an up-cycler or a designer/maker? Are you the proud owner of classic car, camper, vintage van, motorbike, scooter or bicycle? Then we want to hear from you!

VISIT OUR WEBSITE OR EMAIL US AT
INFO@CLASSICCARBOOTSALE.CO.UK

The fifth Classic Car Boot Sale takes us on a journey that celebrates timeless design and future classics in vehicles and the products sold from their boots. The event, taking place in one of Europe's best regeneration projects of the past 50 years, comes of age with a cornucopia of classic cars, great shopping, music, dance, walkabout entertainment and street food, the classic car boot sale celebrates the evocative and historic public transport vehicles and good vehicles that served the coal drops and grain warehouses that give King's Cross/St Pancras its distinctive architectural backdrop.

FOR MORE INFORMATION VISIT WWW.CLASSICCARBOOTSALE.CO.UK

THECLASSICCARBOOTSALE @CLASSICCARBOOT

VINTAGE
presents
The Classic Car Boot Sale

SATURDAY 3RD & SUNDAY 4TH OCTOBER 2015
9AM - 6PM / £5 ENTRY
LEWIS CUBITT SQUARE, N1C

THERE ARE ALSO FREE ACTIVITIES TAKING PLACE ALONG KING'S BOULEVARD AND GRANARY SQUARE

- 100+ CLASSIC VEHICLES ASSEMBLE FOR AN AWARD-WINNING BOOT SALE LIKE NO OTHER
- FASHION, ACCESSORIES, HOMEWARES AND UP-CYCLED GOODIES.
- STREET FOOD, CRAFT BEER AND COCKTAILS.
- RARE SHOW CARS AND SCOOTERIST DISPLAYS.
- IMPROMPTU MUSICAL PERFORMANCES AND TOP VINYL SPINNING DISC-JOCKS.
- A WORLD RECORD ATTEMPT AND MUCH MORE!

DON'T MISS THE PARTY! FREE ENTRY!
FRIDAY 2ND OCTOBER / 5PM TO 10PM / WEST HANDSIDE CANOPY

A WARM-UP PARTY FOR THE CLASSIC CAR BOOT SALE, FUNK AND SOUL DISC SPINNING VINYL FROM ATOP THE ROUTEMASTER BUS BAR, STREET FOOD, THE CINEMA BUS AND CLASSIC CARS.

SIGN UP AT: CLASSICCARBOOTSALE.CO.UK

CLASSICCARBOOTSALE @CLASSICCARBOOT CLASSICCARBOOTSALE

HEMENDWAYDESIGN.com King's Cross

A5 Flyers designed in sponsorship by Brompton Bicycle and Classic Car Club.

VINTAGE presents
The Classic Car Boot Sale

www.classiccarclub.co.uk

The Classic Car Boot Sale and Classic Car Club have teamed up to offer all Car Boot customers a chance to win a fantastic prize over the weekend of the 14th & 15th of March.

CCC London is the private members club that gives you access to an amazing collection of cars from 1960s classics to the very latest models. Established London 1995.

SEE OVERLEAF FOR DETAILS! SOUTHBANK CENTRE
www.classiccarbootsale.co.uk

NAME: _____

EMAIL ADDRESS: _____

CONTACT NUMBER: _____

THE PRIZE!
ENJOY A WEEKEND HIRE OF A
GORGEOUS CLASSIC CAR!

For a chance of winning, simply fill in your details, tear off the section above and hand back to a member of the Classic Car Club team. CCC terms and conditions apply.

King's Cross

COMPETITION!

BROMPTON

WWW.BROMPTON.COM

BROMPTON AND THE CLASSIC CAR BOOT SALE HAVE TEAMED UP TO OFFER ALL CAR BOOT CUSTOMERS A CHANCE TO WIN A FANTASTIC PRIZE OVER THE WEEKEND OF THE 3RD & 4TH OF OCTOBER.

BROMPTON BIKES ARE WORLD RENOWNED BRITISH MADE FOLDING BIKES. EACH BROMPTON IS HANDMADE IN LONDON.

SEE OVERLEAF FOR DETAILS!

WWW.CLASSICCARBOOTSALE.CO.UK

NAME: _____

EMAIL ADDRESS: _____

CONTACT NUMBER: _____

IF YOU WOULD LIKE BE ADDED TO THE VINTAGE FESTIVAL AND BROMPTON BIKES NEWSLETTERS PLEASE TICK THE BOX.

THE PRIZE:
A BRAND SPANKING
NEW BROMPTON BIKE
WORTH £1,000!

FOR A CHANCE OF WINNING, SIMPLY FILL IN YOUR DETAILS. TEAR OFF THE SECTION ABOVE AND HAND BACK TO A MEMBER OF THE CLASSIC CAR BOOT SALE TEAM. TERMS AND CONDITIONS APPLY.

Time Out, Online
14 APRIL 2016

Booty call: the Classic Car Boot Sale returns to King's Cross this weekend

By Isabelle Aron

Elbows out and get ready to rummage, because a fleet of vintage cars will be cruising into King's Cross this weekend for the annual Classic Car Boot Sale. Now in its fourth year, it sees 65 traders rolling up to flog vintage clothing, accessories and homeware from the trunks of some seriously swanky classic motors. If you get tired of bargain-hunting, there's also live brass music, impromptu theatre performances and a DJ spinning vinyl on an open-top Routemaster bus. When you need to refuel, chow down on street-food treats from Anna Mae's, Pulled Food and Jiggery Pokery Parlour. If you've spent all your money (or you just fancy keeping it old-school), they'll be handing out free samples of everyone's favourite meaty wartime snack, Spam. Form an orderly queue, folks.

Lewis Cubitt Park. King's Cross. Sat Apr 16 and Sun Apr 17. £5, £4 adv.

The Telegraph, Online
13 APRIL 2016

Things to do in London this weekend

The Classic Car Boot Sale CREDIT: CLASSIC CAR BOOT SALE FACEBOOK

John O'Ceallaigh, TELEGRAPH LUXURY TRAVEL EDITOR

The weather in London this weekend

Occasionally heavy rain on Friday should clear by Saturday morning. Expect sunny but cool weather on Saturday day and Sunday.

Classic Car Boot Sale, King's Cross

A striking take on conventional car boot sales, this special event sees a convoy of gleaming vintage vehicles serve as troves for contemporary fashion, accessories and homeware. Alongside the opportunity to buy period knickknacks from these classic automobiles, visitors will be able to enjoy impromptu musical performances and street theatre pieces, and snacks will be available from a number of food trucks.

When: From 10am to 6pm on Saturday April 16 and Sunday April 17

Where: Lewis Cubitt Square, King's Cross, N1C 4UZ

Cost: £5 on the day, or £4 in advance online

Tea Time in Wonderland, Online

13 APRIL 2016

THIS WEEK-END IN LONDON: APRIL 15-16-17

No plans yet? Here are some more cool things to do this week-end in London. If you have tips we haven't covered, don't hesitate to leave us a comment below...

♥ That's London, baby ♥

1. Spring is back. Join the Night Skate event in Hyde Park this Friday to make the most of it. Free.
2. Did you know Brixton has its own currency? And now even its first cash machine. Where you can get a David Bowie note, just saying.
3. The Classic Car Boot Sale is back this week-end, in King's Cross this time. Lots of vintage finds presented not on stalls but in the boots of beautiful classic cars...
4. Explore some of London's secret gardens.
5. Celebrate Record Store Day this Saturday – many stores (such as Brill Cafe in Clerkenwell, Container Records in Brixton) will have entertainment and live music.

♥ Art and culture ♥

King's Cross

PRESS CUTTING

1. We're celebrating 400 years of Shakespeare in 2016. Annie Jenkins wrote 1000 mini-plays inspired by his work, to be played by The Rude Mechanicals as they travel across Hackney in their custom made pageant wagon.
2. Street Artist Ben Eine's new exhibition in Soho is around neons – brilliant!
3. The V&A presents Undressed, the story of underwear design from the 18th century to the present day, from corsets to Agent Provocateur.
4. Another World, the National Theatre's new play explores why some young Muslim men and women from across Western Europe leaving their homes to join IS. Very well researched, truly interesting.
5. The Halcyon Gallery presents Warhol Icons – more than a hundred masterpieces by the pop art genius.

♥ Yum ♥

1. Rose Latte or mushroom coffee?
2. We tried a rather magical dessert at the Corinthia this week: chestnut ice-cream topped with Italian meringue, enclosed in a delicate sugar sphere...
3. Cheer up – The Real Wine Fair, at Tobacco Dock, is a two day event celebrating artisan winegrowers who work with minimal intervention in the vineyard and the winery. There are more than 150 producers to meet.
4. Will you be brave enough to try the pulled pork sundae?
5. Weird Beard Brew Co. welcomes the public this Sunday. Time for a pint or 2.

♥ 5 ideas to make your little ones smile ♥

1. If your children play a musical instrument, they can join a concert at the Southbank Centre this Saturday. They will learn some simple arrangements on the day. Free.
2. Join Disney Junior's latest Heroes of The Lion Guard and treat your little ones to a (free) interactive experience at Westfield.
3. Dream of polar bears at the Unicorn Theatre. This adorable show is for 2-5 years.
4. On Saturday, kids can join a special workshop at the V&A, get inspiration from the West End Musicals and design their own make-up.
5. Let your little ones marvel at soap bubbles at the Southbank Centre – giant ones, squares ones, others filled with smoke...

Read more at <https://teatimeinwonderland.co.uk/2016/04/13/this-week-end-in-london-april-15-16-17/#SMAqly7xVxFKGAGV.99>

Gasholder, Online
13 APRIL 2016

MUST DO: Classic Car Boot returns to KX this weekend

Designer Wayne Hemmingway's celebration of automobiles, rummaging and food is back. Here's what to expect...

TOM KIHLE

Busiling: 2015's Classic Car Boot event in Cubitt Square

The point about this two-day vintage festie from designer Wayne Hemingway is that it doesn't really matter if you're not a massive fan of the automobile. Sure, it helps to dig all things four (or even two) wheeled, with more than a hundred rare cars, buses and historic bike displays.

Classic looks as well as cars in KX this weekend

But there are also cultural attractions aplenty: oodles of street theatre, some TFL buskers and a whole load of impromptu musical performances, complete with DJs spinning a vinyl-only selection of tunes from the 1940s-80s atop an open-air Routemaster bus.

For orally-fixated souls, there's the opportunity to scoff and booze at some of the best stalls in the capital too – well, this is King's Cross, home of KERB after all.

After stuffing yourself silly – washed down, of course, with a cocktail or craft beer – why not hit the Best of Britannia's pop-up marketplace? There'll be a carefully curated selection of the best British manufactured goods and products.

The festival is very easy to find too: it flows up from Pancras Square, along King's Boulevard, through Granary Square and onto the recently opened Lewis Cubitt Square. There's even a leafy park behind to catch some rays – if the pesky sun obliges.

*Classic Car Boot Sale takes place on the 16th & 17th April, Lewis Cubitt Square NIC, 10am – 6pm.
£5 on the day / £4 online: classiccarbootsale.co.uk*

Venyoo UK, Online
12 APRIL 2016

Vintage Presents Classic Car Boot Sale Kings Cross 16. April 2016

Classic Car Boot Sale returns to its new setting in Kings Cross. We've assembled the finest vintage fashion, accessories and homeware traders operating from the boot of their vintage vehicles alongside a show stopping exhibit of classic cars, London's finest street food wagons, impromptu musical performances, street theatre and all manner of vintage fun that can be had on two and four wheels! Ladies bring your man. Gentlemen bring your lady... There's something for everyone here! Sign up to our newsletter to receive regular updates as the programme for the day is revealed.

Venue

Kings Cross/St Pancras Station, London, United Kingdom

Skiddle, Online

12 APRIL 2016

Classic car boot sale on sat 16th april 2016

SPAM® Can Tour comes to Kings Cross!

People of London come see what SPAM® Can really do!

Following the phenomenal success of the 2015 SPAMERICAN™ Tour in the USA, it's now Britain's turn to experience the great taste and versatility of the world's most iconic meat, SPAM® Chopped Pork and Ham, having fun along the way on a unique tour. It is 75 years since SPAM® Products came to the UK and to celebrate this heritage, we'll be at the Classic Car Boot Sale in Kings Cross immersing ourselves in all things vintage.

A specially designed, eye catching airstream van will hit the highways and byways of Britain taking a pit stop in King's Cross to show thousands of people just what SPAM® Can really do. Serving up trendy SPAM® Fries, we'll show you a hot new way to enjoy this iconic meat recently popularised in hip eateries in Hackney and Dalston. Visitors to the airstream will enjoy a small portion absolutely free!

Visitors can also have fun with friends and family by having their photo taken in the Giant SPAM® Can. Fans will also receive a free commemorative tour booklet that shows the various ways 'SPAM® Can' be enjoyed, from the ultimate breakfast fry up to traditional favourites such as SPAM® Hash, plus a free branded trolley coin that can be used in all major UK supermarkets.

Come along and see what SPAM® Can really do!

Metro, P24
12 APRIL 2016

VILLAGE VINTAGE

SMALL IS BEAUTIFUL

SOMETIMES smaller villages can hold car boot treasure. 'My favourite car boots have always been the irregular school or community-run ones, where people genuinely clear out rather than buy to sell,' reveals designer

Wayne Hemingway, who has set up his own classic car boot sale (above and main picture), packed with vintage traders and British designer/makers. The next one is being held in London's King's Cross this Saturday and Sunday.

classiccarbootsale.co.uk

The article features a photograph of a busy vintage car boot sale. In the foreground, a man in a brown jacket and a woman in a green top are looking at a light-colored garment. The background shows other people, vintage cars, and racks of clothing. Below the photo is a portrait of Wayne Hemingway, a man with glasses wearing a dark suit jacket over a light blue shirt.

Goodbye weekend lie-in, hello car boot sale season. Lara Sargent tells you how to spot the treasure among the trash

Fill yer boots, it's time

BE METHODOICAL

It's no good turning up at 10 o'clock for an hour and calling it a day. Some of the best bargains go first at a car boot sale, so it's worth setting your alarm early and scouring stalls quickly and efficiently. Don't forget, the end of the day can also be a good time to hunt as sellers want to get rid of their wares and are more willing to sell things off cheaply rather than packing up and taking them back home.

'I do try and visit every stand, working my way up one side and down the other for each row,' says Christine Leech, craft and interiors blogger of seweeah.co.uk, who likes Hayes Farm boot fair in south London (hayesfarm.co.uk) and the Sunday one in Lewes, East Sussex. 'I've got quite skilled at glancing and working out if the stall is going to be useful – you can see from a distance if it's a clear-out of outgrown baby clothes or the contents of a long-forgotten loft!'

GET DOWN AND DIRTY

Often, sellers put the most obvious items or things they love on their table and the rest gets lost on the floor – but this is where you could find vintage gold. And you might want to dress down for the event, as sellers could very well bump up their prices if you're sporting a designer handbag and coat.

'There are plenty of bargains to be had where people don't realise the value of what they've got, but you have to look deep,' says interior designer and vintage specialist Shaun Clarkson. 'I probably go about 20 times a year and my favourite car boot sale is in Icklesham in West Sussex (icklesham.com). It's a big sale with dealers – and with it being a relatively wealthy area, you often get those "magic finds".'

'Anything goes at a car boot sale. However, I'd avoid anything that's so ramshackle it would cost more to renovate than it's actually worth.'
Sophie Robinson, judge on The Great Interior Design Challenge

Hunting season: If you know what you're looking for, you can find cut-price booty this summer

DON'T BUY EVERYTHING

Go with a clearish idea of what you want – a mirror, a picture frame, pick 'n' mix china – and try and stick to it, otherwise you'll end up having to do your own boot sale at the end of the season. Most experts would agree that for health and safety reasons you should avoid second-hand electrical goods – you can't test them and have no idea if they work.

KNOW YOUR NAMES

More serious car booters might want to get up on what trends are turning into today's high-value, collectible bits and pieces. You'll be hard pushed to find mid-century modern designs from the likes of Ercol (which are widely known for their value and sell for serious money these days) but if you do, snap them up. Your best bet for quirky finds, military treasures and period pieces is from people clearing out a relative's house. According to online car experts, Zuto, around 20 per cent of us are on the hunt for vintage prints and pictures at a car boot, so these are sure to sell out fast.

When you're sifting through ceramics look out for names like Poole, Denby and Hornsea – you're unlikely to find a full set but odd bits can be bought over time. Designer Wayne Hemingway suggests keeping an eye out for 1960s coffee sets, West German lava pottery and bubble glass. His best buy to date is a pair of 1960s bucket chairs for just £10. Sophie Robinson's top tip is to seek out brass and gold items. The Great Interior Design Challenge judge's star buy is a mirrored side table bought more than 20 years ago for a mere £20.

'I bought a Constance Spry vase worth £180 for 10p,' says Clarkson. 'But I felt terribly guilty as I knew what it was and the seller didn't!'

Vintage gold: Look out for treasures like Poole and Hornsea pottery

Hustle and bustle: Don't be afraid to negotiate or rummage

DON'T BE AFRAID TO BARTER

This is no time to be shy – if you've got your eye on something and you think the seller is asking too much for it then barter. Dealers are usually open to negotiation, especially at the end of the day. And make sure you bring plenty of small change – you don't want to over-pay just because you haven't got enough 50ps. Take some packaging to wrap up your prized finds too. Sellers might have a few spare carrier bags to hand out but if you're shopping for fragile items, stock up on bubble wrap and newspaper for the journey home.

Interiors | Inspiration | Food Home

for a bargain

Be a good-dealers' stall stalker

'If you're a regular to a particular car boot sale, clock where the good dealers are, as they tend to have the same pitch - go there first to catch the bargains.'

Shaun Clarkson, interior designer and vintage specialist

Hanging on to the 1970s

'The 1970s and 1980s are coming back so if you like that kind of thing then you'll find some nice pieces at boot fairs this summer. I want some of the old nail and string art and some original macramé pot holders (right)!'

Christine Leech, craft and interiors blogger at sewyeah.co.uk

VILLAGE VINTAGE SMALL IS BEAUTIFUL

SOMETIMES smaller villages can hold car boot treasure. 'My favourite car boots have always been the irregular school or community-run ones, where people genuinely clear out rather than buy to sell,' reveals designer

Wayne Hemingway, who has set up his own classic car boot sale (above and main picture), packed with vintage traders and British designer/makers. The next one is being held in London's King's Cross this Saturday and Sunday. classiccarbootsale.co.uk

Time Out, P7
12 APRIL 2016

City life

Edited by Eddy Frankel & Sonya Barber
@timeoutlondon

Booty call

ELBOWS OUT and get ready to rummage, because a fleet of vintage cars will be cruising into King's Cross this weekend for the annual Classic Car Boot Sale. Now in its fourth year, it sees 65 traders rolling up to flog vintage clothing, accessories and homeware from the trunks of some seriously swanky classic motors. If you get tired of bargain-hunting, there's also live brass music, impromptu theatre performances and a DJ spinning vinyl on an open-top Routemaster bus. When you need to refuel, chow down on street-food treats from Anna Mae's, Pulled Food and Jiggery Pokery Parlour. If you've spent all your money (or you just fancy keeping it old-school), they'll be handing out free samples of everyone's favourite meaty wartime snack, Spam. Form an orderly queue, folks. ■ Isabelle Aron
→ Lewis Cubitt Park. ☉ King's Cross. Sat Apr 16 and Sun Apr 17.
£5, £4 adv.

Thirty Something London, Online11 APRIL 2016

5 Cool London Date Ideas This Week 11/4 – 17/4

This week's London date ideas are cooler than Marvin Gaye locked in a fridge.

The “HANDS On” Date

Nothing's better than a “hands on” date (use your imagination). Well, this week you can get as hands on as you'd like at the UK Rock, Paper, Scissors Championships! Seriously. It'll definitely be a memorable one – especially if one of you takes home the £100 prize!

The “On the MARKET” Date

Walking around a market whilst on a date is always a good idea. Apart from being very relaxed, being able to stroll from stall to stall gives you constant conversation starters. This weekend the Classic Car Boot Sale is happening in Kings Cross. Expect classic cars, vintage clothes, live music and even street theatre – so, if you balls up this date..... It's all you.

The “DEAD Awesome” Date

We live in a world of expensive immersive movie experiences. Sure, you could watch “28 Days Later” for free online... Or you can forfeit your weekly food budget and see it as part of this year's (not so) Secret Cinema. Look, you're definitely going to have a good time – going all out and dressing up as zombies will definitely be memorable no matter whether it's a first or 400th date.

The “BACKSEAT” Date

Drive-in movies are great! My mum used to take me when I was a kid and if I ever have kids (I really better get my skates on) I'll probably take them too. In the meantime, the Drive-In Film Club at Ally Pally is happening with tickets still available for Mad Max: Fury Road and Blade Runner. You'll obviously need a car.... So, you might want to get onto that part first.

The “On Your Toes” Date

The ballet is always a really good date. I'm serious – hear me out on this one. You might feel as though you're doing your female friend a favour by getting tickets, but it really is worth going. The Sadler's Wells in North London is premiering the “She Said” from the 13th – 16th. It looks incredible, so you better get in quick to get tickets.

Pic courtesy of Classic Car Boot Sale.

Londonist, Online
11 APRIL 2016

BY: LAURA REYNOLDS

Vintage Bargains On Retro Wheels At Classic Car Boot Sale

© 2014 MIKE.T PHOTOGRAPHY

The Classic Car Boot Sale at its old location on South Bank in 2013. Photo: Mike T
Forget chipped ornaments, baggy cardigans and dusty lamps. King's Cross hosts a car boot sale with a twist this month.

Goods are sold out of the boots of all manner of vintage vehicles at the Classic Car Boot Sale, and the things being sold have a vintage twist too: get your hands on vintage clothes and accessories, retro homewares, vinyl records and other collectibles.

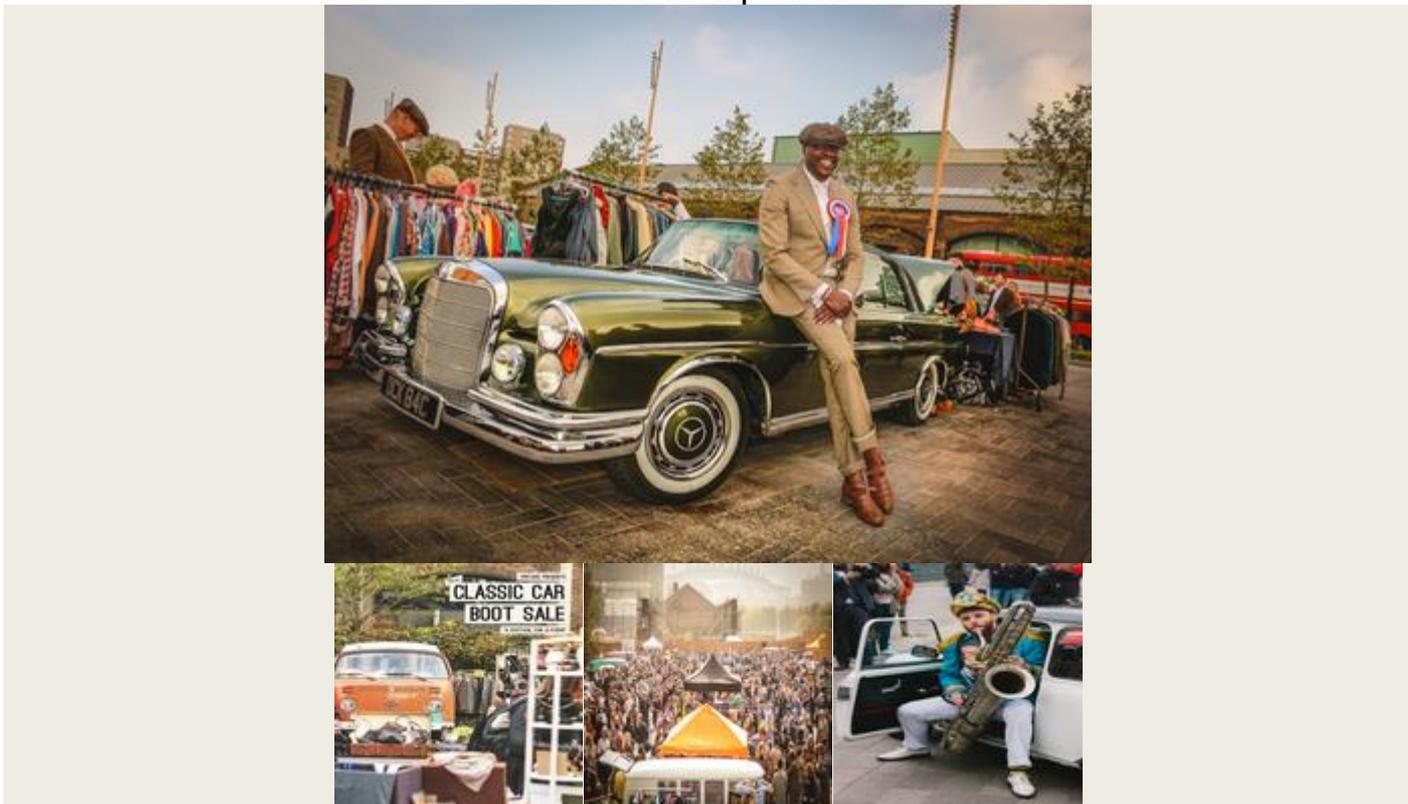

Don't know your treasure from your tat, or can't be bothered with the rummaging? That's OK. Drinking, dining and dancing are all heavily encouraged, with street food and drinks being sold from vintage vans, and tunes provided courtesy of a DJ atop an open-air vintage Routemaster bus.

The Classic Car Boot Sale takes place at Lewis Cubitt Square in King's Cross on 16 and 17 April, 10am-6pm. Tickets are £5 on the door or £4 online.

Stall and Craft Collective, Online

9 APRIL 2016

'The Finest Vintage Fashion, Accessories And Homeware Traders Operating From The Boot Of Their Vintage Vehicles Alongside A Show Stopping Exhibit Of Classic Cars'
Greater London | 09.04.2016

The finest collection of vintage fashion, accessories, homewares, designer makers, collectables and vinyl record traders operating from the boots of their vintage vehicles alongside a show stopping exhibit of over 100 classic vehicles.

Rare car, bus, commercial vehicle and historic bike displays, mod and rocker ride outs, impromptu musical performances, roaming street theatre, live music and DJs spinning a vinyl only selection of 40s to 80s tunes atop an open-air Routemaster bus.

If vintage-vulturing isn't your thing then there is plenty of opportunities to dine, drink, dance and do including some of the finest mobile eateries serving street food, coffee, cocktails and craft beer from vintage vans. Or why not browse Best of Britannia's pop up marketplace? With a carefully curated selection of the best British manufactured goods.

All will be joined by thousands of shoppers, collectors, vinyl-lovers and petrol heads, for a family-friendly celebration of all things vintage, collectible and crafted. Join us for vintage fun that can be had on two and four wheels!

"Forget what you think you know about car boot sales: ruinously early starts; dodgy bacon butties; polystyrene cups of tea; rain-swept fields; dingy-haired humans stomping around in dirty tracksuits; banged-up Fiestas touting toot...Instead, picture vintage vehicles and retro treasure." - mrandmrsmith.com

The finest vintage fashion, accessories and homeware traders operating from the boot of their vintage vehicles alongside a show stopping exhibit of classic cars, London's finest street food wagons, impromptu musical performances, street theatre and all manner of vintage fun that can be had on two and four wheels!

King's Cross

PRESS CUTTING

Flowing up from the Kings Cross St Pancras Square, along Kings Boulevard, through Granary Square and onto the recently opened new public space, Lewis Cubitt Square, The Classic Car Boot Sale will showcase the traders and vehicles that will take us on a journey that celebrate timeless design and future classics.

Want To Join Us?

If you have a pre 1990 classic car from which you'd like to trade (be that selling vintage garments, accessories, homeware, records or automotive memorabilia).

You have a vintage vehicle from which you sell street food, craft beer or cocktails.

You have a classic bicycle with a basket or trailer from which you would like to trade.

You have a classic motorbike or scooter you would like to show off/trade from.

You have a classic camper or caravan from which you would like to trade or perform.

You have a pre 1990 vehicle and simply want to show off your pride and joy or if you wish to sell your classic wheels!

No classic car, no problem! We will be pairing vintage traders without a classic car with classic car owners who don't have vintage goods to trade. Think of us as a vintage dating agency!

Our Next Event:

April 16th & 17th

Lewis Cubitt Square

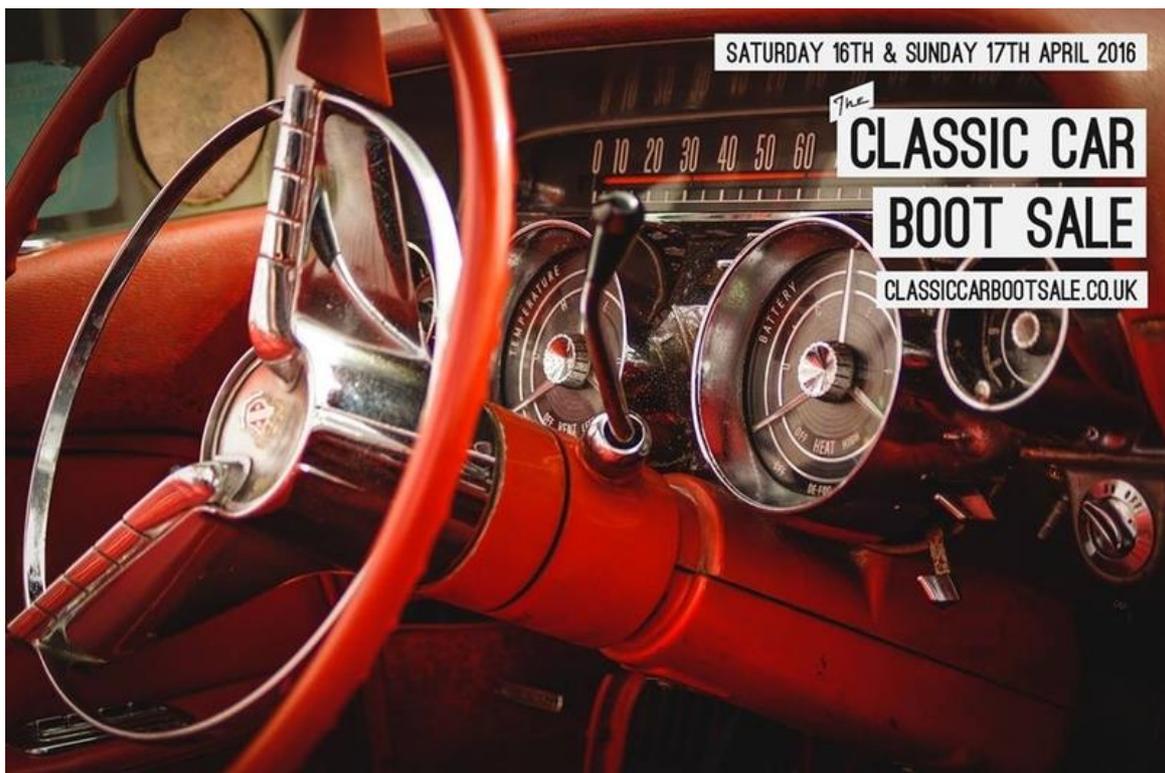

King's Cross, London

N1C 4UZ

Nearest Tube Station:

King's Cross / St Pancras International Station

Our Events & Contact Details Can Be Found HERE

Event Magazine, Online
8 APRIL 2016

Spam hits the road for 75th anniversary

By Grace Caffyn,

Spam is taking its branded Airstream trailer - aka the Spam Can - on tour this summer to celebrate 75 years in the UK market.

Passers-by can try a free portion of the brand's hot Spam fries

The campaign, which features the tagline 'see what Spam can do', aims to show Brits how versatile the canned meat can be.

Those who stop by the vehicle will receive a free portion of the US brand's hot Spam fries and learn about other recipes, such as Spam hash, to try at home.

The trailer itself is decked out in yellow signage, with a giant inflatable rocket on its roof.

Spam merchandise, including lanyards and trolley tokens, are be up for grabs for those who take part in the brand's alley game. Visitors can also have their photo taken inside a giant branded can.

King's Cross

PRESS CUTTING

The tour started in Liverpool last month, to coincide with Spam Appreciation Week.

Next, the van will hit the Classic Car Boot Sale in King's Cross on 16-17 April, before visiting other family-friendly events in Shropshire, Birmingham, Sunderland, Cheshire and Blackpool. It will finish at CarFest South in Hampshire from 26-28 August.

The campaign is being promoted across Twitter, Facebook and Instagram using the hashtag #SPAMCanTour. It follows the brand's Spamerican tour in the US.

A Spam spokesperson told Event: "With more than 12,000 Spam fries served over the weekend, the first event was a huge success ... The main objective is to show the British people what Spam can really do! It can be fried, sliced, grilled or eaten cold and we'll be demonstrating just how versatile this iconic meat really is."

In other meat-related news, Burger & Lobster hosted a one-off immersive food experience, The Art of Dining, earlier this year.

Comment below to let us know what you think.

For more in-depth and print-only features, showcases and interviews with world-leading brands, don't miss the next issue of Event magazine by subscribing here.

Follow @gcaffyn

Londonist, Online
7 APRIL 2016

SPAM Can Tour Arrives In London In Huge Can On Wheels

SPAM in a vintage tin van.

SPAM chopped pork and ham — that delicious meat product you know you love really — is coming to London. And it's arriving in a massive can on wheels.

On 16 and 17 April the Giant SPAM Can will be parked up at the Classic Car Boot Sale in King's Cross. OK it's not really a giant can of SPAM Products — but a customised Airstream van, which will fit right in with the car boot's vintage vibe.

Say hello to the people inside the van, and they'll reward you with a free portion of SPAM Fries. "SPAM Fries?!" we hear you exclaim. Don't knock them till you've tried them. Made from more than 90% shoulder pork and leg ham, is fun, unique and truly versatile. (So versatile you can turn it into fries.)

Celebrating 75 years in the UK, the SPAM Brand has become the most iconic meat brand on the planet — referenced by Monty Python in THAT sketch and recently enjoying a renaissance in hip areas of London like Dalston and Shoreditch.

While getting your SPAM fries on the #SPAMCanTour, you can also pick up a free commemorative tour booklet that shows the various ways SPAM products can be enjoyed. Believe us, there are lots.

Catch the SPAM Can at the Classic Car Boot Sale, King's Cross on 16 and 17 April, from 10am - 6pm. Tickets to the car boot £4 in advance, £5 on the door. SPAM fries absolutely free.

Knits and Kitsch, Online

7 APRIL 2016

I'M SO EXCITED AND I JUST CAN'T HIDE IT! ONLY 9 MORE SLEEPS XX DIARY ALERT: LONDON'S COOLEST VINTAGE FAIR

Forget what you think you know about car boot sales: ruinously early starts; dodgy bacon butties; polystyrene cups of tea; rain-swept fields; dingy-haired humans stomping around in dirty tracksuits; banged-up Fiestas touting toot...

Instead, picture vintage vehicles and retro treasure. We're talking about Classic Car Boot Sale, which takes place 16–17 April (10am–6pm) in London's King's Cross (the swish new Lewis Cubitt Square development, to be precise). At this luxed-up bargain bonanza, the cars in question – all 100+ of them – will be collectors' beauties; in place of on-the-blink microwaves and miscellaneous plastic crap, their boots (bootiques?) will be stuffed with retro treasure: gully garms, rare records, hip homewares and more.

Classic Car Boot Sale is one of designer Wayne Hemingway's stylish babies, so it comes as no surprise that everything has been thought of. All that vintage bounty making you crave the hipster's holy trinity: pulled pork, doughnuts and craft brews? You'll find all that and then some, plus music, dance and entertainment. Tickets won't break the bank, either: they're four quid online, or a fiver on the day.

Mr Hemingway knows a lot about budget brilliance: he's helped judge the Best Budget Boutique Hotel at our Smith Hotel Awards since 2013. This year, Wayne was wowed by runner-up Claska, saying: 'Claska takes the Japanese minimalism of a ryokan and gives it a modern twist'. If you can't quite make it to Japan this April, hit the Classic Car Boot Sale instead (and take your plunder back to nearby Clerkenwell and The Zetter or The Zetter Townhouse, afterwards).

Classic Car Boot Sale, 16–17 April, 10am–6pm, King's Cross, London

Buy tickets

The Hopscotch Newsletter, Online
5 APRIL 2016

CLASSIC CAR BOOT SALE

The air surrounding Kings Cross will hang heavy with the smell of petrol, old clothes and smoked sausages this Saturday, as phalanxes of classic cars, campervans, trucks and motorcycles rev up for the Classic Car Boot Sale. Run by the fantastic Vintage Festival mob, the vehicles will throw open their trunks and sell all manner of retro goodies. Plus there'll be chromed food trucks, a mouth-watering selection of street eats (go with an empty stomach), DJs playing from an open-topped bus, live music, street theatre, and tons more.

N1C. £5, £4 online. Saturday 16th and Sunday 17th. 10am–6pm. More here

Vintage Guide to London, Online

1 APRIL 2016

The Classic Car Boot Sale

The best vintage event winner in the 2015 London Vintage Awards, the Classic Car Boot Sale returns to King's Cross.

Expect a cornucopia of classic cars, great shopping, music, dance, walkabout entertainment and street food. You will also get the chance to celebrate the evocative and historic public transport vehicles and goods vehicles that served the coal drops and grain warehouses that give Kings Cross St Pancras its distinctive architectural backdrop.

The Classic Car Boot Sale

16-17 April

10:00 to 18:00

Kings Cross

Lewis Cubitt Square

Euston Road

N1 9AP London

Rockett St George, Online
1 APRIL 2016

APRIL HOTLIST
Spring is here! And thank goodness for that...

SHOP: THE CLASSIC CAR BOOT SALE

This event has been on our radar for a while, and we get so excited every time it comes around! The event returns to King's Cross with an expanded offering of classic cars, great shopping, music, dance, walkabout entertainment and street food. You know how obsessed we are with car boots, and this really is the ultimate spot for all those desirable vintage finds...

PRESS CUTTING

King's Cross

The Classic Carboot Sale – Lewis Cubitt Square, King's Cross, London N1C 4UZ on the 16th & 17th April. 10am – 6pm. £5 on the day / £4 online

Gasholder, P4
APRIL 2016

MUST DO Focus

Classic Car Boot Sale

THE POINT ABOUT THIS two-day vintage festie from designer Wayne Hemingway is that it doesn't really matter if you're not a massive fan of the automobile. Sure, it helps to dig all things four (or even two) wheeled, with more than a hundred rare cars, buses and historic bike displays.

But there are also cultural attractions aplenty: oodles of street theatre, some TFL buskers and a whole load of impromptu musical performances, complete with DJs spinning a vinyl-only selection of tunes from the 1940s-80s atop an open-air Routemaster bus.

For orally-fixated souls, there's the opportunity to scoff and booze at some of the best stalls in the capital too – well, this is King's Cross, home of KERB after all (see page 3). After stuffing yourself silly – washed down, of course, with a cocktail or craft beer – why not hit the Best of Britannia's pop-up marketplace? There'll be a carefully curated selection of the best British manufactured goods and products.

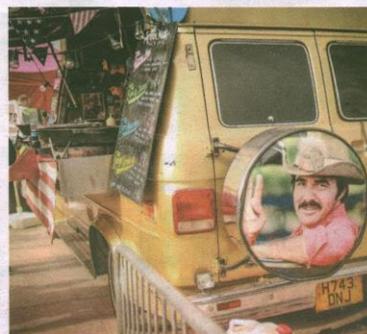

The festival is very easy to find too: it flows up from Pancras Square, along King's Boulevard, through Granary Square and onto the recently opened Lewis Cubitt Square. There's even a leafy park behind to catch some rays – if the pesky sun obliges.

Classic Car Boot Sale takes place on the 16th & 17th April, Lewis Cubitt Square N1C, 10am - 6pm. £5 on the day / £4 online: classiccarbootsale.co.uk

BUT WHO EXACTLY IS WAYNE HEMMINGWAY?

Sure, he's the bloke behind the Classic Car Boot Sale. But older readers will know that he's most famous for being the founder of Red Or Dead, the iconic 1980s fashion brand he launched with wife Geraldine in Camden Market. In 1999 the pair sold the label and went on to start Hemingway Design, which specialises in affordable and social projects. They dreamed up the Vintage Festival in 2010, out of which the Classic Car Boot Sale emerged a couple of years back. Find out more: houseofhemingway.co.uk

Oh! My Giddy Aunt, Online
30 MARCH 2016

Next sale: LASSCO Ropewalk April 2/3rd (& 1st weekend every month)
CLASSIC CAR BOOT SALE 17th April, King's Cross

Footman James, Online
30 MARCH 2016

Web: www.classicarbootsale.co.uk

Classic Car Boot Sale

Date: 16.04.2016 - 17.04.2016

Location: Lewis Cubitt Square, King's Cross, London N1C 4UZ,

The finest vintage shindig returns to Kings Cross, London and is set to be a classic weekend.

This spring event will see the finest vintage fashion, accessories, homeware traders, collectables and vinyl record traders operating from the boot of their classic vehicles. Alongside this will be a show stopping exhibit of over 100 classic vehicles including rare cars, buses, commercial vehicles, historic bike displays and mod and rocker ride outs.

The two day car boot sale flowing up from the Kings Cross St Pancras Square will be jam packed with live music performances, DJs spinning a vinyl or two, exciting street theatre, the finest street food wagons and all manner of vintage fun you can think to take you on a journey that celebrates timeless designs and future classics!

This family-friendly celebration will see thousands of vintage lovers flock to Lewis Cubitt Square in King's Cross twice this year in April and again in October. Apparently you can never have enough vintage fun so the Classic Car Boot Sale will also be taking place in Glasgow August 6th – 7th.

Fancy Taking Part...

Detailed below are prices to pay to take part.

2 Wheeler Trader (scooter/push bike/motorbike) £25 + VAT per day

Car Trader or Pair Trader £45 + VAT per day

Middle Vehicle (VW Camper or Caravan) £60 + VAT per day

Large Vehicle (Coach, Airstream or Truck) £85 + VAT per day

Display Vehicle or Pair Display – Free of charge

Tickets

Tickets are available for purchase with a discount of £1 when you order online. Alternatively, visitors can pay £5 on the day.

For more information visit - <http://classiccarbootsale.co.uk/>

Classic Car Club, Online

30 MARCH 2016

Classic Car Boot Sale is back

By Simon Clarke Wednesday, March 30, 2016

There's a hint of spring in the air and it's time to think about getting out there and enjoying some of the amazing events going on this year. A firm favourite of ours here at CCC is the Classic Car Boot Sale which makes its return on the weekend of the 16th and 17th April 2016. If you haven't yet managed to make it along, it's a fabulous event with more classic cars around the place than you can shake a stick at! We will be there with a choice selection of motors from our Private Members' fleet.

The event takes place at the newly redeveloped King's Cross site (you wouldn't recognise it if you haven't been there recently).

There is always a huge range of things to see and do. The finest vintage fashion, accessories, homewares, designer makers, collectables and vinyl traders operating from the boots of an ever more eclectic selection of classic cars. There will also be London's finest street food wagons, impromptu musical performances, roaming street theatre, live music and DJ's spinning top tunes from the 40s to the 80s atop an open-air Routemaster bus.

We're teaming up with Classic Car Boot Sale to give you the chance to arrive in style to this amazing event. Click here to enter the draw and you could win a chauffeur driven classic for you and two friends. We'll pick you up from your home and drive you in style to the Boot Sale in one of the amazing cars from our fleet.

For a taster of what to expect at this years event, check this out:

- See more at: <http://www.classiccarclub.co.uk/2016/03/30/classic-car-boot-sale-is-back/#sthash.VKN49m4M.dpuf>

Boxed Vintage, Online
30 MARCH 2016

HOME > EVENT > CLASSIC CAR BOOT SALE

Classic Car Boot Sale

WHEN: April 16, 2016 @ 10:00 pm – April 17, 2016 @ 6:00 pm

 Calendar

WHERE: Lewis Cubitt Park
Handyside St
Kings Cross, London N1C 4UZ
UK

CONTACT: Event website

Best of Britannia, Online
30 MARCH 2016

BOB EVENTS 2016

APRIL 16/17 2016

THE FINEST VINTAGE FASHION, ACCESSORIES & HOMEWARE

KINGS CROSS, LONDON

The finest vintage fashion, accessories and homeware traders operating from the boot of their vintage vehicles alongside a show stopping exhibit of classic cars, London's finest street food wagons, impromptu musical performances, street theatre and all manner of vintage fun that can be had on two and four wheels!

classiccarbootsale.co.uk

LDN Fashion, Online
29 MARCH 2016

London's Top 10 Vintage Markets

FEATURES | LONDON GUIDES | 29/03/2016 | LEAVE A COMMENT

London's fashion reputation has been established for decades, so it's no wonder we've got plenty to choose from when it comes to style from bygone eras. If you love rummaging around for affordable, pre-loved pieces, head to the city's bustling vintage markets to pick up something unique.

Portobello Road Market

Amongst Notting Hill's charming pastel houses, the world's largest antiques fair takes place seven days a week. Popular with well-seasoned locals and industry traders alike, head to the Portobello Green area of the market on Fridays for the best array of vintage fashion for men and women.

Portobello Road, Notting Hill, London, W10 5TA

Clerkenwell Vintage Fashion Fair

Held seven times a year, Clerkenwell Vintage Fashion Fair benefits from being inside the beautiful, Art Nouveau, Old Finsbury Town Hall, setting the elegant scene for over 50 traders of quality vintage. Expect to find a mix of designer brands and unlabelled womenswear, menswear jewellery and accessories as well as a tearoom with live singers.

The Old Finsbury Town Hall, Rosebery Avenue, Clerkenwell, London, EC1R 4RP

Hackney Flea Market

The beauty of this monthly Saturday market is you never know what you'll find. From antiques and record sellers to expert vintage traders and local makers selling vintage-inspired items, there's a heavy rotation of traders so there's always something new to stumble upon.

Abney Hall, 73A Church Street, London N16 0AS

The Classic Car Boot

Not your average car boot sale, vintage cars and dapper dressers come together to get in the old fashioned spirit. Held a couple of times a year in King's Cross, there's street food and dancing alongside stalls of vintage fashion and antiques to create a festival atmosphere.

Lewis Cubitt Square, King's Cross, London, N1C 4UZ

Old Spitalfields Market

Thursday is vintage day at London's oldest market. The East London area, famous for the Huguenot silk weaving community in the 17th century, has a long history with fashion and is now one of the city's trendiest market destinations. The covered market is surrounded by glossy cafes, restaurants and shops to refuel in between haggling.

109 Commercial Street, Spitalfields, London, E1 6BG

The Vintage (Up)Market at Old Truman's Brewery

Popular with the younger crowds that gather along Brick Lane's vintage hub, this indoor market is sprawling with back-on-trend fashion for a fraction of the price. Open every Thursday to Sunday, head here for wearable, everyday items dating from 1920s to 1990s.

King's Cross

PRESS CUTTING

The Old Truman Brewery's Vintage Market F Block, 85 Brick Lane, London, E1 6QL

Camden Passage Market

This area of Islington is known for its specialist antique shops and the markets along it have some rare gems. Camden Passage Market runs every Wednesday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday for vintage and retro clothing, luggage and collectables. It's a treasure trove for those with a well-trained eye.

Camden Passage, Islington, London, N1 8EA

Frock Me! Vintage Fashion Fair

For the upmarket King's Road crowd with vintage tastes, the grand Chelsea Old Town Hall is host to this fair seven times a year. Well-dressed shoppers can peruse over 50 stalls of clothing, textiles, accessories and haberdashery so you're guaranteed to find something special.

Chelsea Old Town Hall, King's Road, London, SW3 5EE

Bermondsey Antique Market

This outdoor Saturday market is full of trinkets and oddities to keep you amused. You'll also find exceptional accessories with a great story behind them. These dealers know their salt so don't be afraid to ask questions. There's the occasional rail of clothing but come here for unusual fine jewellery and millinery.

Bermondsey Square, London, SE1 3UN

Camden Stables Market

London's live music district is the perfect spot for rock 'n' roll vintage fashion, which is exactly what you'll find at the Camden Stables Market. In the sprawling cobbled complex that used to be a horse hospital, you'll find vintage traders mixed in with alternative fashion, arts and crafts and food stalls seven days a week. This is the place to stock up on timeless leather jackets.

Chalk Farm Road, London, NW1 8AH

Blog.MrandMrsSmith, Online
29 MARCH 2016

Sarah Jappy

Diary alert: London's coolest vintage fair

Forget what you think you know about car boot sales: ruinously early starts; dodgy bacon butties; polystyrene cups of tea; rain-swept fields; dingy-haired humans stomping around in dirty tracksuits; banged-up Fiestas touting toot...

Instead, picture vintage vehicles and retro treasure. We're talking about Classic Car Boot Sale, which takes place 16–17 April (10am–6pm) in London's King's Cross (the swish new Lewis Cubitt Square development, to be precise). At this luxed-up bargain bonanza, the cars in question – all 100+ of them – will be collectors' beauties; in place of on-the-blink microwaves and miscellaneous plastic crap, their boots (bootiques?) will be stuffed with retro treasure: gully garms, rare records, hip homewares and more.

Classic Car Boot Sale is one of designer Wayne Hemingway's stylish babies, so it comes as no surprise that everything has been thought of. All that vintage bounty making you crave the hipster's holy trinity: pulled pork, doughnuts and craft brews? You'll find all that and then some, plus music, dance and entertainment. Tickets won't break the bank, either: they're four quid online, or a fiver on the day.

Mr Hemingway knows a lot about budget brilliance: he's helped judge the Best Budget Boutique Hotel at our Smith Hotel Awards since 2013. This year, Wayne was wowed by runner-up Claska, saying: 'Claska takes the Japanese minimalism of a ryokan and gives it a modern twist'. If you can't quite make it to Japan this April, hit the Classic Car Boot Sale instead (and take your plunder back to nearby Clerkenwell and The Zetter or The Zetter Townhouse, afterwards).

Classic Car Boot Sale, 16–17 April, 10am–6pm, King's Cross, London

Buy tickets

Vintage Festival, Online

22 MARCH 2016

The Classic Car Boot Sale - Kings Cross London - 16th & 17th April 2016

The Classic Car Boot Sale showcases over 100 vintage vehicles and traders operating from the boot of their vintage vehicles. It is a veritable treasure trove for vintage shoppers, collectors, vinyl lovers and petrolheads alike! If Vintage-vulturing isn't your thing then there is plenty of opportunities to dine, drink, dance and do including some of the finest mobile eateries serving street food, coffee, cocktails and craft beer from vintage vans, heritage fairground rides, roaming street theatre, a cornucopia of rare show cars and the Vintage Festival DJs playing a vinyl only selection of 40s to 80s tunes atop an open-air Routemaster. Who knows what treasure might be lurking at the Classic Car Boot!?

To register your interest, please send a description and images of your classic vehicle and vintage wares to info@classiccarbootsale.co.uk or alternatively visit The Classic Car Boot Sale website.

E: classiccarbootsale.co.uk
T: @ClassicCarBootSale F: facebook.com/ClassicCarBootSale

PRESS CUTTING

King's Cross

PRESS CUTTING

King's Cross

PRESS CUTTING

King's Cross

Ultra Vie, Online
22 MARCH 2016

LEWIS CUBITT SQUARE

THE STORY

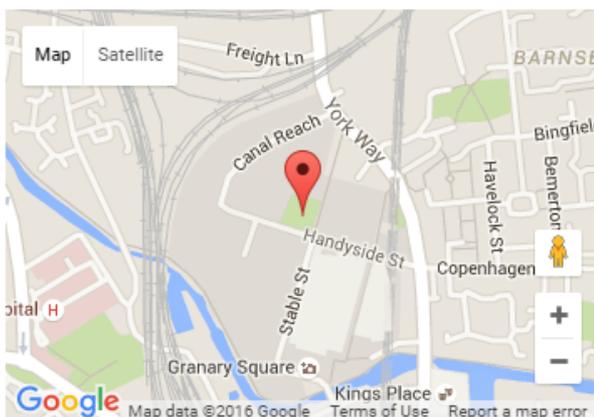

Calling all classic car lovers and doyennes of the vintage scene: London's stylish "festival for a fiver" returns to King's Cross this spring.

Wayne Hemingway's Classic Car Boot Sale returns to celebrate timeless design and future classics on 16 & 17 April 2016 with 65 vintage traders, 30 designers/makers from Best of Britannia, two bespoke bars, one DJ bus, a massive collection of carefully curated young designers, designer-makers, up-cyclers, purveyors of vintage fashion, accessories and homewares, street food vendors and over a hundred classic vehicles and bikes. It's a family-friendly feast for the thousands of shoppers, design lovers, collectors, vinyl lovers and petrol heads to get their teeth into.

Don't miss out on this opportunity and RSVP now!

LOCATION

T&Cs

Lewis Cubitt Square.
King's Cross. London

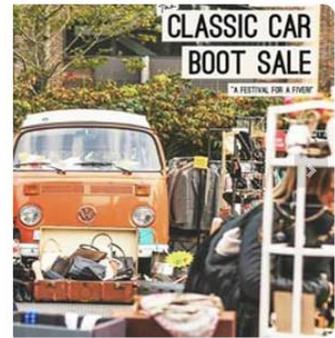

N1C 4UZ

Camden

Tel: 02071834963

Ultra Vie, Online
22 MARCH 2016

LEWIS CUBITT SQUARE

THE STORY

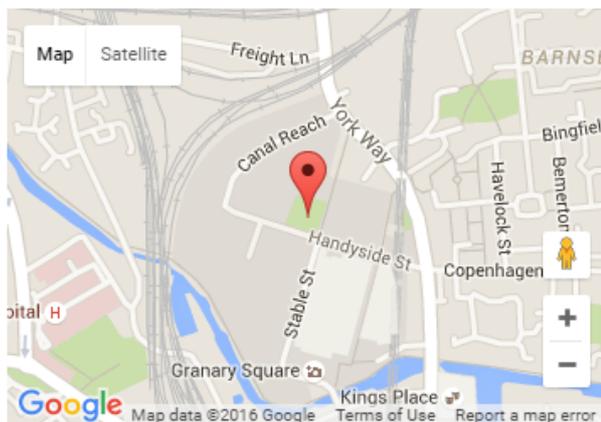

Calling all classic car lovers and doyennes of the vintage scene: London's stylish "festival for a fiver" returns to King's Cross this spring.

Wayne Hemingway's Classic Car Boot Sale returns to celebrate timeless design and future classics on 16 & 17 April 2016 with 65 vintage traders, 30 designers/makers from Best of Britannia, two bespoke bars, one DJ bus, a massive collection of carefully curated young designers, designer-makers, up-cyclers, purveyors of vintage fashion, accessories and homewares, street food vendors and over a hundred classic vehicles and bikes. It's a family-friendly feast for the thousands of shoppers, design lovers, collectors, vinyl lovers and petrol heads to get their teeth into.

Don't miss out on this opportunity and RSVP now!

LOCATION

T&Cs

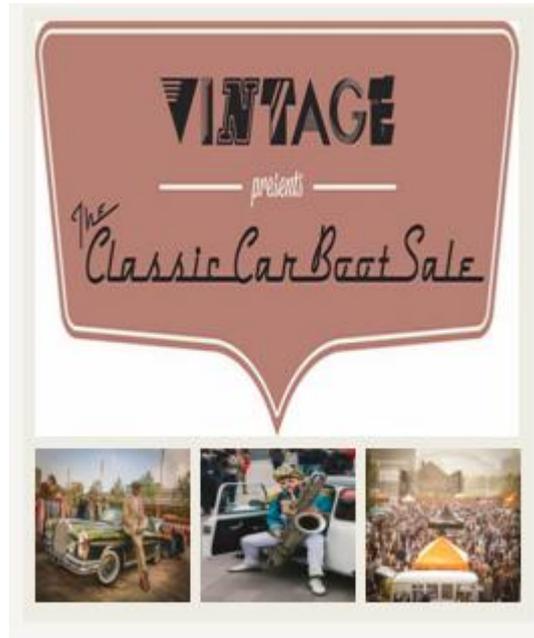

Lewis Cubitt Square.
King's Cross. London

N1C 4UZ

Camden

Tel: 02071834963

Stall and Craft Collective, Online
 22 MARCH 2016

The Classic Car Boot Sale Kings Cross London

Date: 16/04/2016
Venue: Kings Cross
Address: Lewis Cubitt Square
 Handyside St
 London
 Greater London
 N1C 4UZ

Event Organiser: The Classic Car Boot Sale
Organiser Contact: Emma Sudall
Contact Number: 02089031074
Number of Stalls: 100+

Customer Information

Customer Arrival Time: 10:00
Customer Departure Time: 18:00
Admission Price: £5

Stallholder Information

Stallholder Arrival Time: 07:00
Stallholder Departure Time: 18:30
Cost of Stall: £25 to £65

Event Type

Antique & Collectors Fairs
 Car Boot & Table Top Sales
 Festivals
 Food Shows
 Fun Days & Family Fairs
 Markets
 Motor Shows
 Specialist Fairs
 Vintage Fairs

Event Details

The finest vintage fashion, accessories and homeware traders operating from the boot of their vintage vehicles alongside a show stopping exhibit of classic cars, London's finest street food wagons, impromptu musical performances, street theatre and all manner of vintage fun that can be had on two and four wheels!

CLASSIC CAR BOOT SALE, KING'S CROSS

The event comes of age showcasing an expanded cornucopia offer of classic cars, great shopping, music, dance, walkabout entertainment and street food.

Flowing up from the Kings Cross St Pancras Square, along Kings Boulevard, through Granary Square and onto the recently opened new public space, Lewis Cubitt Square, The Classic Car Boot Sale will showcase the traders and vehicles that will take us on a journey that celebrate timeless design and future classics.

classiccarbootsale.co.uk/

Send:

Email a Friend

Like on:

facebook

Tweet on:

twitter

London the Inside, Online
22 MARCH 2016

SOCIAL CLASSIC CAR BOOT SALE

Get that booty to the car booty. With over 100 classic cars cruising in to Kings Cross to celebrate all things vintage, whether you fancy digging for vinyl gold or grabbing a new wardrobe, this is a weekend not to miss. But if rummaging for those hidden gems is not your thing, how about catching an impromptu show from the National Youth Theatre? Or a spot of music magic from Dat Brass? Yes they've got it all covered and with enough food and boozy vans to keep you fuelled for the whole day, we're talking Pulled Food, Anna Mae's, Jiggery Pokery Parlour and more. And if this wasn't already a world class car boot, you can even pick up your very own classic motor in a new-for-2016 expanded area of the event!

So put on those boots and cruise on down to King's Cross for a weekend full of vintage dreams.

Entry £5
Sat 16th & Sun 17th April 2016
Lewis Cubitt Square, King's Cross, London, N1C 4UZ
www.classiccarbootsale.co.uk

Car Boot Sale, classic car boot sale, kings cross, vintage, vintage car, vinyl

- See more at: <http://londontheinside.com/2016/04/04/classic-car-boot-sale-3/#sthash.LyjME6Wu.dpuf>

Classic Cars for Sale, Online

22 MARCH 2016

HEMINGWAY ADDS CAR SALES TO LONDON BOOT

Date: 22.03.2016

A new feature for designer Wayne Hemingway's Classic Car Boot Sale at King's Cross, London next month is the opportunity to buy and sell 'affordable British classics'.

The first of this year's London Classic Car Boot Sales takes place on 16-17 April at Lewis Cubitt Park, and in addition to the classic vehicles used by traders and on display, there will be an area dedicated to cars and motorcycles for sale. There is no charge for selling.

'The Classic Car Boot Sale attracts thousands of design-aware people, many of whom are prompted by the beautifully designed cars on show to own one themselves,' says event founder Hemingway. 'Now that we can expand the site at King's Cross it seems logical to see if any of the classic car community fancies selling some affordable classics there.'

The weekend 'celebration of timeless design' includes vintage fashions, street food, homewares, impromptu musical performances, dance and theatre.

www.classiccarbootsale.co.uk

Hemingway adds car sales to London Boot

Classic and Sport Car, Online

22 MARCH 2016

Classic Car Boot Sale to return to London

The much-anticipated Classic Car Boot Sale will make a triumphant return to the capital on 16-17 April, once again setting up shop a stone's throw from King's Cross railway station.

Dozens of designers, collectors and sellers of vintage fashion and bric-a-brac will offer everything from vinyl records to up-cycled furniture from a host of classic cars, commercials and motorcycles. As well as being used to display retro gear, there will also be a selection of classics on display, in addition to – for the first time in the event's history – a number of classic cars and 'bikes for sale.

Organisers are still on the lookout for pre-1989 classics to display – click here if you would like to take part. Among the vehicles already confirmed is a 1936 Ford Coupe, from which vintage clothing and accessories will be sold, a 1957 Lambretta LD150 and a 1961 Ford Consul MkII, which will house clothing, shoes and handbags. A 1976 Austin Allegro, 1949 Leyland BTW bus and 1937 BMW 328 are also expected to attend.

Click here to book advance tickets (and save £1 in the process)